

HubCity Connector “Rails to Trails” Project

Trail and Beautification

A
F
T
E
R

City of Spartanburg / Palmetto
Conservation Foundation

$250,000

Year: 2004

B
E
F
O
R
E

The HubCity “Rails to Trails” Project focuses on converting abandoned railway tracks in downtown Spartanburg into safe walking and bicycling paths. The HubCity Connector begins at the intersection of Union and Henry streets and continues 1.8 miles to Country Club Road. This path is essential in connecting local schools, businesses and neighborhoods together. This project is important to Spartanburg because it is a vital part of the statewide Palmetto Trail Project.